COAL,

. . . the life-blood of industry -- the producer of warmth and cheer for the home, is Pike County, Kentucky's contribution to the wealth and prosperity of a greater America.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial statements. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses, income, and transfers between accounts.

The second part of the document provides a detailed breakdown of the accounting cycle. It outlines the ten steps involved in the process, from identifying the accounting entity to preparing financial statements. Each step is explained in detail, with examples provided to illustrate the concepts.

The third part of the document discusses the various types of accounts used in accounting. It categorizes accounts into assets, liabilities, equity, revenue, and expense accounts. It also explains the normal balances for each type of account and how they are used to calculate the net income or loss for a period.

The fourth part of the document discusses the importance of adjusting entries. It explains how these entries are used to ensure that the financial statements reflect the true financial position of the company at the end of the period. Examples are provided for each of the five types of adjusting entries.

The fifth part of the document discusses the preparation of financial statements. It outlines the steps involved in preparing the balance sheet, income statement, and statement of owner's equity. It also discusses the importance of comparing the financial statements to the company's budget and to industry trends.

The sixth part of the document discusses the importance of internal controls. It explains how these controls are used to prevent and detect errors and fraud. Examples are provided for each of the five types of internal controls.

The seventh part of the document discusses the importance of ethics in accounting. It explains how accountants should maintain objectivity and integrity in their work. It also discusses the consequences of unethical behavior and the importance of reporting any suspected wrongdoing.

The eighth part of the document discusses the importance of communication in accounting. It explains how accountants should communicate effectively with their clients and colleagues. It also discusses the importance of maintaining accurate and up-to-date records.

The ninth part of the document discusses the importance of technology in accounting. It explains how software and automation can be used to streamline the accounting process and reduce the risk of errors. It also discusses the importance of staying up-to-date on the latest technology trends.

The tenth part of the document discusses the importance of continuous learning in accounting. It explains how accountants should stay up-to-date on the latest accounting standards and regulations. It also discusses the importance of seeking out professional development opportunities.

PIKEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

About us and around us
God's hills eternal stand,
Symbolic of the glory
Of this, our native land,
Made richer by traditions
Of storied days of old,
Of pioneer and red-man
And deeds of Warriors bold.

Pikeville High, O Pikeville High,
Circled by the verdant hills,
With thy azure mountain sky
Mirrored in thy mountain rills,
We, the children of their breast,
Swear to love thee ever best.

The world awaits our coming
In office, fac'try, store,
And some of us shall leave thee
And see thy walls no more;
But firm stands our devotion
As life's long years roll by --
We'll love thee and remember
Our dear old Pikeville High.

Pikeville High, O Pikeville High,
Where our youthful years we spend,
While the fleeting moments fly
Till our happy school days end,
This we know deep in each heart,
We shall leave but never part.

-- Riley Scott

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by a valid receipt or invoice. This not only helps in tracking expenses but also ensures compliance with tax regulations.

In the second section, the author provides a detailed breakdown of the monthly budget. It includes categories for housing, utilities, food, and entertainment. Each category is further divided into specific items, such as rent, electricity, groceries, and dining out. This level of detail allows for a clear understanding of where the money is being spent.

The third section focuses on the overall financial goals and the strategies used to achieve them. It mentions the importance of saving for long-term goals and the use of various investment vehicles. The author also discusses the challenges faced and how they were overcome through careful planning and discipline.

Finally, the document concludes with a summary of the key takeaways. It reiterates the importance of budgeting, saving, and investing. The author expresses a commitment to continuing to learn and grow financially, and hopes that the information shared will be helpful to others.

HONOR SENIORS - FIRSTS

Bess Keith Hayes

Bess Keith, age 17, has done much in the year she has been in Pikeville High School. She entered from McVeigh, where she also made an excellent record. She is 5 feet 5½ inches tall, has brown eyes and hair, and enjoys dancing immensely. Her favorite sport is tennis. She likes school, and says some of the boys are all right. As to teachers, "They'll do, some are good and some are very poor." She intends to be a teacher or nurse. Bess Keith is well-liked by all, has a jolly disposition, and is always willing to help. The Senior Class may well be proud of her.

Jack DuPuy

Jack's full name is John Brooker DuPuy, Jr., but he prefers just plain "Jack." He is 17 years old, and entered Pikeville Hi in 1933. Formerly, he went to school at Knoxville, Tennessee. Standing 5 feet 8½ inches in his bare feet, weighing 138 pounds, with blonde hair, and green eyes, his favorite recreation is swimming. "While I'm not so good at it, still I like swimming," was his comment about his favorite sport. As editor of the annual he announces that school is all right, at times. The attraction of the fair sex has him in its inevitable drag. He said about the teachers of P.H.S., "All of them are pretty good." He is as yet undecided about his vocation. Jack has proved a capable editor for the Black Diamond, as well as holding executive positions in several of the school's leading clubs.

HONOR SENIORS - SECONDS

Ellen Thornbury

Ellen Roberta Thornbury is 17 years of age. She has attended Pikeville schools all her school life. She loves music, and her favorite sport is swimming. She likes school, and when asked what she thought of boys, she answered, "Oh, they are all right." "Some teachers are all right, others are not," she replied in answer to our query. Ellen, who stands 5 feet 2½ inches, with brown eyes, and dark brown hair, is one of the sweetest and quietest girls in school. Despite that, she has taken part in most of the major activities that Pikeville has to offer, and has been outstanding in them all. She deservedly is an honor student.

Billy Bevins

Bill refuses to divulge his full name, merely using the initial "E." Bill has light brown hair, brown eyes, weighs 120 pounds, and is three inches short of six feet. He is 17 years old, and formerly attended school at Meta, Kentucky, coming here in 1932. He likes farm work, and his favorite sport is baseball. School holds an attraction for him, but not girls. His opinion of the teachers is, "Some good, others poor." His chosen vocation will be either a doctor or a lawyer, so if he kills his patient, he can defend himself in court. Billy is one of the most dependable boys in school, and is well-liked and well-thought of by everyone. The Seniors would be one degree lower in quality were it not for him.

SENIOR CLASS ACTIVITIES

In 1932 the Senior Class of '36 entered Pikeville High School as Freshmen. By working hard they have advanced from Freshmen to Seniors, and now their work is completed.

The officers for the class in the Senior year are: John Saad, president; Lon Ratliff, vice-president; Josephine Morris, secretary-treasurer; and Ervin Pruitt, sergeant at arms. The colors are blue and white and the motto is, "Impossible is Un-American."

We are proud of Mavis Coleman and John Paul Compton as writers, Mavis for winning the state essay contest and John Paul for having his short story accepted by Weird Tales.

The Seniors have taken part in many of the student activities. Butler Bales, Daniel Hopkins, Ted Hudson, Ervin Pruitt, John Saad, and Howard Wiley shine in football! And what would basketball be like without Daniel Hopkins, Bruce Walters, and Ted Hudson? The Seniors are represented in Dramatics, Debate, and all clubs in the school, and have won many honors for P.H.S.

The Seniors of the class of '36 look forward to graduation, which will mark the end of their school life in Pikeville High School. They go forth happy, yet sorry to leave old P.H.S.

THE JUNIOR YEAR

Juniors! At last! Only one degree removed from attaining the heights that we have yearned for since we first started out in the primary grades. All of us have traveled a long way, but the present goal we have reached is comparable to Wolfe's feat of storming the Heights of Abraham and conquering Quebec. Under our leaders, the teachers of the different grades that we have been a part of in our educational life, most of us have succeeded in gaining a very high degree of knowledge. In this eleventh year of struggle, some students from other schools have joined our group, and new friends have been made -- some of our classmates have moved away--while still others have been launched upon the "Sea of Matrimony."

Many of our schoolmates have made their impression upon Pikeville High's records that will stand for a long time. Many of our boys have accomplished feats on the gridiron and basketball floor that are unexcelled -- other pupils have attained glory in forensic and dramatic activities -- while still others are leaders in social and executive work. Only by hard and diligent effort on the part of the students and the never-failing interests of our instructors have these successes been accomplished.

While our record is one of the best of the preceding Junior classes, still, we have room to improve it as we go on to take over the positions that our older brothers and sisters have left for us to fill.

At this time, let us say that we are indeed grateful to our class sponsors, Miss Catherine Hendricks and Mr. C. C. Smallwood. It has been only under their guidance that we have succeeded to our present level during this Junior year. Mr. Smallwood has been very popular with us and has cooperated in every way. Miss Hendricks, through her wisdom of the ways of boys and girls, has proved to be a fountain of needed wisdom to all.

THE SOPHOMORE YEAR

The much-teased "greenhorns" of last year have proudly lifted their heads and shown their teasers who's green. Under the helpful supervision of Miss Brown, Mrs. Meador, and Miss Hughes the sophomores have given to athletics and the numerous clubs and activities some of their number who cannot be overlooked.

On the football team were Charles McKinney, end; Gratho Bartley, tackle; Joe Ramey, end; Charles Owens, end.

Bill Jackson, center; Foster Robinson, forward; Fred Moore, forward; and Jack Cox, guard, formed a vital part of the Bulldogs' team, and are material for future Panthers. The sophomore members of the Panther basketball team were, Gratho Bartley, center; and Charles McKinney, forward.

At the Hallowe'en carnival in October the sophomores' candidates for queen led the numerous other queens for a real chase. The candidates were Christine Justice, Hester Ratliff, and Kathryn Smith. The boys who were sophomore kings really put forth an effort and Bill Jackson led the procession.

THE FRESHMAN YEAR

On the first day of school over one hundred Freshmen adorned the campus of old P.H.S. These students were distributed in three home rooms, under Mrs. Catlin, Mr. Lowe, and Mr. Hatcher.

After all the excitement of the first days of high school life were over the Freshmen settled down to actual work. A class meeting was called and the following officers were elected: Joe Thornbury, president; William Ewers, vice-president; Ruth Bales, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Catlin was chosen as class sponsor.

The Freshmen class of '36 stands out from all others of the school because of its loyalty to the activities of the school. The members participate in all clubs and social affairs with a large representation.

There are a large number of outstanding students in the Freshmen class. The following students have never missed being on the honor roll: Theo Hurley, Vivian Kaminski, Joe Thornbury, Pet Lemon, June Fowler, Imogene Harrison, Gaynelle Deskins, Alice Justice, Coolidge Blackburn, Howard Haught, Edward Pruitt, Maurice Vaughn, Norma Jean Barker, Mildred Fields, Effie Day, Edward Stratton, and David Yates.

The Freshmen climb another step on the stairway of education, leaving behind them a grand example of hard and honest work for those who follow in their footsteps. To the on-coming Freshmen, they wish to extend their heartiest wishes for success and the thrills to be gotten from Freshmen life.

The Junior High School has an enrollment of 175 pupils. This department is composed of the seventh and eighth grades. The teachers are: Miss Ruth Repass, Mrs. Fayne Hughes, Miss Elizabeth Owens, and Mr. Walter Venters.

The regular high school plan for classes is used, and all major subjects are taught in forty-five minute periods. Each home room contains a library unit which includes books and magazines suitable for Junior High boys and girls.

Both pupils and teachers have shown enthusiastic interest in the work this year. With this hearty cooperation much has been accomplished.

JUNIOR HIGH AWARDS

The major aid of the Junior High School is character development. The Pikeville Post of the American Legion has greatly assisted in carrying out this aim. They offered a reward to the most outstanding boy and girl in the eighth grade class. The boys and girls were judged on the following: Courage, honor, leadership, scholarship, service.

The winners, Joyse Sanders and Oscar Staten, were selected by the vote of the class. Nell Fleu and Bradford Runyon were the runners-up. The Legion plans to make these awards annually.

The Orange Crush Company awarded prizes for the best essays written in the seventh and eighth grades. The following students received the honors:

Section I: Thomas Watkins, Clyde Davis, Evelyn Fenix

Section II: Laymon Good, Forrest Wiggins, Polly Ann Moore

Section III: Billy Brown, Glen Brown, Bill Roberts

Section IV: Bertha Mae Edmonds, Gene Ellen Hurley, Vivian Coleman.

The Pikeville Chapter of the D.A.R. gives a medal each year to the student who makes the highest grade in American History. Bradford Runyon is the winner for 1936.

ALUMNI

An educational institution is no better than the material it turns out. Pikeville High School standards in this respect have been remarkable. We have every reason to be proud of our Alumni. Our school spirit, not only helps us in our school work, but it continues to be an inspiration as we go out to meet life and its problems.

The way in which our Alumni meet their reverses as well as their successes determines the caliber of Pikeville High School, and as we examine the records, we find the Pikeville High School graduates of the past twenty-one years are varied in their callings. Since the twenty-one graduating classes, starting in 1916 with one member (Mr. Vernon Stump) and ending with 1936 with a class of eighty-two members, there have been a total of 702 graduates. The largest class was graduated in 1933 with 101 members.

The Alumni Association of Pikeville High School is a reality. Although comparatively large, definite aims have been formulated, and we are trying to accomplish those aims to the best of our ability. We have inaugurated athletic events between our graduates and the future graduates in order that we might bring a closer relationship between the alumnus and his alma mater.

Our task has only begun. We have made a slight beginning of what we wish to accomplish. We must develop the spirit of the Alumni, and realize that we carry the stamp of a great institution. What we do will reflect upon our school, and we must strive that our work will cast credit on the school we represent.

We must not forget our responsibility and debt to our Alma Mater. We must work to her advantage and honor. We must cooperate with her in all projects that will aid in her advancement. We must recognize the relationship that exists between alumni and strengthen the bonds of friendship that all may work in unison for the building of a better Pikeville and Pike County.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

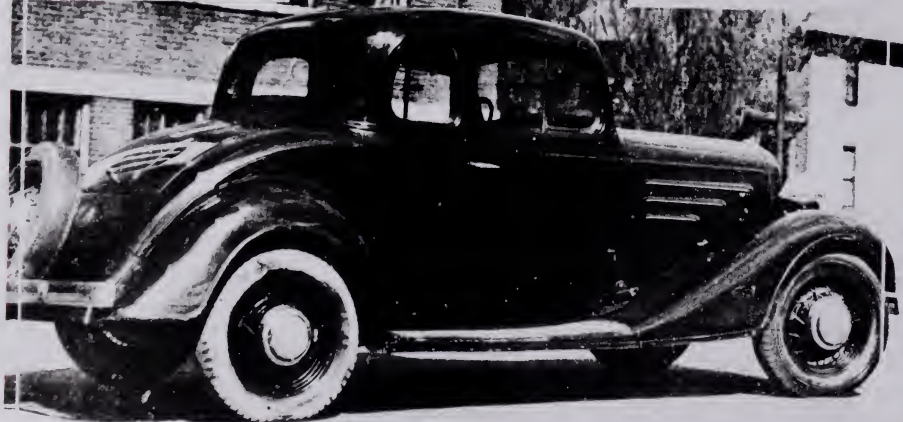

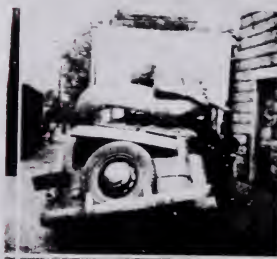

The Business Department of Pikeville High School was established twelve years ago to meet the demand for well-trained office help in Pike County. During these years many young men and women have taken advantage of this work and are now employed in responsible positions in the offices of this section.

It is the purpose of the school to offer a one year of intensive training so that the work can be taken by adults as well as regularly enrolled high school students. The courses taught are Shorthand, Typing, Bookkeeping, Business English, and Arithmetic.

The equipment is efficient and up-to-date. Thirty-five of the latest model Underwood Typewriters are in use. The department is also provided with a Burrough's Adding Machine, Mimeograph, Mimeoscope, and Duplicator. The school is trying to make the work as practical as possible so that the step from classroom to office will be simplified.

Several of the students of this year have already been employed. They are: Osie Hamilton, stenographer at the Union Advocate; Thelma McCown, bookkeeper for the City Water Works; Ruby Robinson, bookkeeper for the Big Sandy Fruit Company; Lucille Saad, typist at the County Clerk's Office; James Trivette, bookkeeper at the True Service Station; Jack Ratcliffe, part-time general clerical work J. B. Dick & Company.

The efficiency of the department is evidenced by the large number of successful young men and women from the school now holding positions in Pikeville and the surrounding territory. There will be an additional number available when school closes.

AUTO MECHANICS

The Auto Mechanics Department was added to the Curriculum last year. The course is practical and trains boys to make a living. The course includes motor and body work, ignition systems, painting, and general repair. Mr. Hersil Johnson has been in charge of the work, and thirty-one boys have taken advantage of the course.

The large bus body shown in the upper picture on the opposite page was built entirely in this department from steel. It has a capacity for forty passengers and is mounted on a Diamond T Chassis.

The two small inserts on the opposite page show views of a wrecked Chevrolet when it was taken into the Mechanics Department. The large picture in the lower half of the page was taken after the car had been rebuilt.

BIBLE STUDY

Each year the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. sponsor a Bible study project through the Girl Reserves and the Hi-Y organizations in the high schools throughout the state of Kentucky. Pikeville High School has been outstanding in this work during the past year.

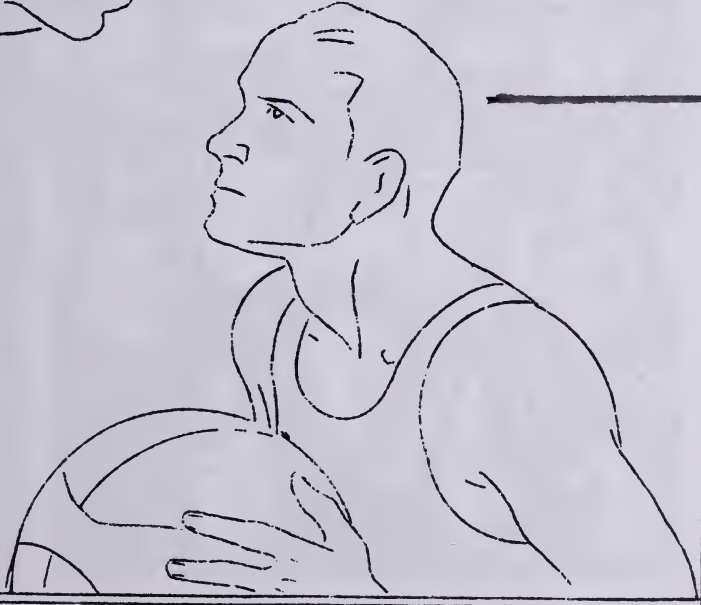

The course consisted of seven lessons taken from a booklet, "As We Think," written especially for this project, and a final examination covering the entire book. The teachers for the girls were: Mrs. Stratton, seniors and juniors; Mrs. Catlin, juniors; Miss Brown, sophomores; Miss Lewis, sophomores, Miss Scott, freshmen. Many interesting discussions were held and a large number of the girls received certificates for the work.

Dr. Garland Stratton, sponsor of the Hi-Y and the boys' division of the Bible study project, had charge of the program for the boys. Rev. Howerton, Rev. Lowe, Dr. Cobb, Rev. White, and Rev. Catlin conducted the meetings and gave interesting talks to the boys.

ATHLETICS

COACH CASSIUS HATCHER

Coach Cassius Hatcher came to Pikeville High School in 1933 to take over the duties of athletic director, and coach. In that time, he has proven his worth. In 1933 his Panthers came in third in the Big Sandy Conference, and it was in the final game of the season that they conquered their life-long rival, Louisa, for the first time.

This year, the Hatcher-coached Panthers won the conference for the first time in Pikeville football history. Their hopes of an undefeated season were spoiled, however, by the Denham machine when they won over the Panthers by a score of 7-0.

Hatcher's basketball team enjoyed a fairly successful season this year, when they won fifteen games out of twenty-five, and two tournament games out of three. Coach Hatcher deserves the praise that we are giving him for turning out such excellent athletes.

FOOTBALL

FOOTBALL REVIEW

During the past season the Pikeville High School Panthers accomplished the greatest feat that has been attained by any football team in this section in recent years. They went through the conference schedule undefeated, winning over Prestonsburg who has a record of eighteen straight wins. This season Pikeville had a total of 129 points to their opponents 16. They also have a total of 77 first downs to the opposition's 39.

Besides winning the conference the Panthers succeeded in placing four players on the first all-conference team, namely, Hudson, Pruitt, Bales, and Ishmael, and two on the second team, Hopkins and Wiggins. Ishmael, all-conference captain, was also given honorable mention for all-state. Wiggins, who was on the second team of all-conference was selected captain of this team. This gave Pikeville the honor of placing captains on both the first and second conference teams.

Pikeville's conference winning team will lose six men from the squad this year by graduation: John Saad, Ted Hudson, Daniel Hopkins, Bud Bales, Ervin Pruitt, and Howard Wiley.

Much credit is due coach Hatcher who in his three years of coaching at Pikeville has piloted one team to second place in the conference, another tied for conference honors, and the third won the title undisputed. Credit is due also to Assistant-Coach Venters who in his first year of coaching has been so successful as to allow only one team to score over his linemen.

BASKETBALL REVIEW

The Pikeville Panthers, under the direction of Coach Cassius Hatcher, have enjoyed a fair 1935-36 basketball season, winning fifteen out of twenty-five games in their schedule, and winning two games out of three in the tournament at Elkhorn City. At the outset of the season, it looked as though the Panthers were not going to do so well, but the middle part of the season found the aspirants playing regularly and well. The boys elected Bruce Walters, guard, as captain of the high school's basketeers, with Ted Hudson, guard, as co-captain. These two boys have served admirably well as leaders of the team.

Charles Ishmael has proved one of the ablest men at the pivot position that the local team has had. He was selected as one of the most outstanding players of the tournament at Elkhorn. Bill Venters, Joe Scott, and Junior Wiggins have battled for the forwarding positions during the entire season, and the question of who was to start in these positions had not been definitely settled at the end of the season. Daniel Hopkins, who graduates this year along with Hudson and Walters, is one of the springiest men for his size in this district. Cecil Bentley, who started at the regular forward position with Bill Venters in most of the early games, dropped out in the middle of the season. While he was in there, he was one of the best defensive forwards the Panthers had. Buster Norris, a sophomore, is noted for his ability as a ball-hawk, and time and again has secured the sphere when needed. Buster is sure to develop into a top-flight guard. Robert Gillespie, center, has another year ahead of him and should prove one of the mainposts of the future Panther's quintet. Phil Bevins has started a number of times as guard and has proved capable. Phil also has another year in which to star. Clayton Moore is one of the fightingest men on the squad and has proved an asset to the team. Malloy Clark came up from the Bulldogs last year and was given his chance by Coach Hatcher. He made good and is expected to do great things. Charles McKinney, while only a sophomore, shows signs of great promise, and doubtless will prove his worth in basketball as he did in football. Gratho Bartley, while new to the game, is a scrappy player, and he has two more years in which to make good.

Bruce Walters and Charles Ishmael were placed on the second all-conference team. Ishmael received a medal as one of the three outstanding players in the tournament. Walters received a gold medal as the best sportsman. The team received third place in the district.

COAL

by
P. W. Lisnen

Henry Kaminski and Louise Butler are the nearest thing to perpetual motion, yet - - - Shirley Venters is pining for a boy in Caroline, but we think it is a dark-haired football hero in Miss Hendricks' room - - - Clarice Moore says that "Ikey" and her just couldn't get along - - - Walter Wells seems to find a mighty big attraction at the Auxier Apartments - - - Ted Hudson is still wary of Anna Mae, but she claims she'll get him yet, or die trying.

Summer time approaches and so does Miss Caneer's wedding - - - Mrs. Catlin has the debaters to thank for her husband.

Paul Nestor still remains the junior's blonde "forgotten man" - - - Bill Jackson always gets the last word on Susan Marguerite Peggy Ann Hereford. He says, "Yes, dear." - - - Bob Scott enjoys walking a mile, this time to Norma - - - Perry Linthicum makes one of the best chauffeurs in school, states Nora - - - John Paul Compton is either brilliant or insane, for his idea of an actor's paradise is "Ham on the Range" - - - Marley Adkins had a high time on the stage in a chapel program - - - Bill Venters is the kind of a dunce that wears rubber boots in a glass factory.

Joe Scott left to Phil his "Good Gracies," but now it looks as though he is taking her back - - - Bud Bales wants the job of pulling weeds in the Sahara Desert.

C. C. Smallwood claims Christopher Columbus really discovered America in 1491, because he was a year behind time - - - Miss Hendricks' favorite expression: "A word to the wise is sufficient. Man wanted" - - - Charlene's favorite pastime is Chigger - - - Daniel Boone says one could have a whale of a time with Gertrude Ratliff - - - Edith Bentley is casting slant eyes at a junior - - - "Hit don't make no matter whether I'm Wright or wrong, says Blanche.

If I had a penny, I'd pay off every cent I owe - - - Why are the Smiths Curt to Wiley? - - - Harold claims he is going to be King in his own home - - - Louise Kinney has a Sterling boy for a sweetheart - - - "Change the name and not the letter, change for worse and not for better." Pay attention, Lon - - - Plymouth, two-door Sedan, License No. 709-984, Sunday night, April 19, and Pluma - - - A Wiley-looking "Bird" told us that Magdalene could make her home in his nest - - - Mildred "Contrary" Penix's ambition is to comb Dutch's hair - - - John Forsyth, who has a heart like flint, is sparking Glima Steele - - - "Frenchie" Wiggins is heading for Cincinnati pretty soon to see the "Gal" - - - Pike Hi's most eligible tap-dancer is "Jumpin' Jack Jim Crawford" Gillispie.

A popular Senior remarks that Pett Lemon is going to be cute one of these days - - - Formerly, scandal meant that somebody did. Now it is what somebody didn't do - - - Alma Weaver believes in Leap Year. She drives a Ford - - - Miss Hughes was caught courting on the steps of the dormitory - - - Lorraine Venters and Bess Keith Hayes receive our vote for the biggest nuisances - - - Ed Ewen still pines for Whitesburg and its fair attractions - - - Too many fish on the same hook has ruined many a good "line," Celcis - - - Johnny Red is near-sighted in one eye, and far-sighted out of the other, so half the time he doesn't know whether he is coming or going, according to Cassius B. Hatcher - - - Eleanor Mae T. has set her cap for Jack DuPuy all year, but despite the fact that this year is "ladies' choice," she hasn't succeeded.

Stoney Clark is surrounded by gold-diggers after that wild night at the Weddington.

One good thing about Leap Year is that men can take their time about dressing, take their time about deciding what to wear, and take plenty of time to change their minds at the last instant. All this and the inestimable joy of breaking dates and going with someone else.

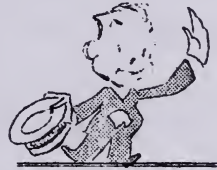

Evelyn Bevins Tackett will be single soon - - - Clayton Moore must be in love, since nothing else could explain that vacant look on his map - - Evidently a whole lot of girls, one Senior, especially, paid no attention to Judge Bales when he talked about painted fingernails and rouged cheeks. Are yuh listenin', Paddlefoot?

We hereby nominate "Egg-nog" Wells as president of Study Hall and advance as his assistant, Gratho Bartley - - Here I had a lot of juicy scandal about Clyde and Josephine, and they ups and marries. A cruel world. Or as Kreymborg would have it, "Ah yes, ah yes, ah yes! indeed - - - Justine Smith is wearing a huge rock on the right finger of the left hand - - - And now, one of my snoopsters reports that Clifford Amos' real name is Clifford Beautiful Amos - - - Miss Hendricks and Mrs. Lewis were seen out after 10 o'clock one night - - - Red Ward is courting a nurse for safety first.

Misery loves company as evidenced by Mildred Caudill and Gladys Burke - - Alleana Newton is the school's red-headed blonde - - - The Scotchman's song is "Dinner For One, Please James" - - - Anna don't live here no Moore - - - How many students were broad-minded on the afternoon of April 29 - - Freddy Riddle is one of the courtin'est boys in high school.

PSALM OF SCHOOL

Tell me not in mournful numbers,
School work is an empty dream,
For the brain is cold that slumbers,
And things are not what they seem.
School is real, school is earnest,
And vacation is its goal,
Dumb thou are, to school returneth--
Dreadful thoughts for every soul.

Have you heard about the freshman who entered at mid-term who has looked all over the second floor of the high school building and hasn't found the basement yet. And then there was one freshman who dropped out of school because he couldn't find his chapel seat.

THE BLACK DIAMOND

THE FINIS

Again we reach the end of another year of school and the closing pages of THE BLACK DIAMOND. The members of the staff have had a lot of pleasure in recording the events of the past year and passing them on to you in a permanent form, to which you may look back in the years to come with pride.

In closing this book, the staff wishes to express their sincere thanks to the students and teachers for their help and cooperation in collecting and checking the materials. We also wish to thank the business men of Pikeville for their liberal financial support through the medium of advertising.

by

W. H. Jones

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by a valid receipt or invoice. This not only helps in tracking expenses but also ensures compliance with tax regulations.

In the second section, the author provides a detailed breakdown of the company's revenue streams. This includes sales from various product lines and services. The data shows a steady increase in revenue over the past year, primarily driven by the launch of new products and expansion into new markets.

The third section focuses on the company's operational costs. It details the expenses related to manufacturing, marketing, and administrative functions. The analysis reveals that while manufacturing costs have remained relatively stable, marketing expenses have increased significantly due to the company's aggressive growth strategy.

Finally, the document concludes with a summary of the overall financial performance. It highlights the company's strong profitability and the effectiveness of its cost management strategies. The author expresses confidence in the company's future prospects and its ability to continue its growth trajectory.
