THE PANTHER

1963

Pikeville High School
Pikeville, Kentucky

This is P.H.S.

We, as individuals, determine its value.

In return, it determines our value.

FOREWORD

The four short years of our high school days pass quickly. All too soon we find that we are no longer freshmen, so awed at the wonder of being in high school, but members of that hallowed group—the Senior Class. During these years of high school many changes take place in us: we discover that high school means work and that an education is an important part of our lives; we face new problems and responsibilities in life and grow up just a little each day; we find the joy of companionship with classmates who are facing the same problems we face. Without our realizing it, Pikeville High School, what it is and stands for, has had a part in shaping our lives. We, the students of this school, are what make it important: if we fail, it fails; if we succeed, it succeeds.

This has been a good year at Pikeville High School, a year to be proud of. The 1963 PANTHER is your record of this year, and we hope that it will become one of your most valued possessions.

To catch the smile of a child, to enjoy the friendship and confidence of youth, to experience the warmth of comradeship with staff members, to feel accepted by a cooperating board of education and a grateful people—these are the imperishable rewards of service.

C. V. Snapp

The year 1962-1963 has been a good school year at the Pikeville City School. True, there was an interruption due to natural forces (a flood), but the staff and the student body have performed most satisfactorily. The best in school life and learning has been experienced and achieved. A special word of commendation to the Senior Class of 1963—this was a grand class and its members will contribute much to society. Underclassmen, continue your education and prepare for a full life.

Charles E. Spears

Our youth of today will be our leaders of tomorrow. So it behooves us to implant upon their minds the values necessary for us to maintain our standard of living, that we may be truthfully called the Land of the Free.

Joan C. McDaniel

There are many, many things which society must demand of itself. But nothing surpasses the demand of responsibility to the youth of our world. The battle today is for men's minds—this begins with youth. Society must guarantee for every young person an education which, through the discovery and development of his individual abilities, will allow him to control his own mind.

Our School Board is not noticed by our student body in everyday life, yet the school could not function without it. The members of the School Board give many hours of their time to enable our city to have a better, more efficient school system. Our grateful thanks to a dedicated board.

“Our year has been a busy one—starting with the Halloween Carnival and finishing up with a marionette show which was a month late due to the flood. We’ve pledged our whole budget to helping the school children by providing eye glasses, free lunches, school supplies and clothing. We all hope to see our new school begun in the next year for sure!” These are the words of the president, Mrs. David Mulliken (first row center).

Under the management of Mrs. Johnston, the cooks work long and hard to prepare our lunches. We appreciate the way they so cheerfully serve us each day.

Our maintenance staff is responsible for keeping our school in good condition. This year they put in many extra hours in order to make necessary repairs to our buildings. We are grateful for their reliable attendance to a vital job.

CONGRATULATIONS

Our graduates have an opportunity to enjoy a life of freedom, plenty, and individual choice—privileges earned by our forefathers.

However, these privileges are not given to us "for free." We must earn them ourselves because

FREEDOM ISN'T FREE.

As Goethe, the poet, said, "What you have inherited from your fathers, earn over again for yourselves or it will not be yours."
