School Days, School Days . . .

In this book is a sampling of all that happened at Pikeville High School this past year. There's a section devoted to "reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic," one to the bashful beaus and maids in calico and one that might even be a reminder of lesson learned with the help of a hickory stick! Whatever you remember best about this year, we hope this book will help you recall it.

To Seniors this book will represent their final year of high school, a goal they've been working toward for twelve years. To underclassmen—another step toward that goal.

This book is a tribute to all students and in appreciation to teachers and faculty.

Deborah Mulliken,
Editor
1964 Panther

Faculty days are the backbone of all school days. Dedicated teachers and administrators are essential to our school system.

In May there's a day dedicated to Mothers and in June a day for Fathers: but every day is a student day.

Organization days are the busiest days. Good workers are kept on the go and a good leader is even busier. Clubs sponsor sock hops, car washes, magazine drives, candy sales, plays, and ballgames.

Our school's clubs accomplish many worthwhile things. They help indigent children, promote scholarship, sponsor dances, encourage future teachers, and publish a newspaper and an annual.

The days that bring out our school spirit are the athletic days. Almost everyone participates someway—as a member of the team, as a member of the band, in the cheering section.

This year we won our Invitational and District Tournaments in basketball, sent three boys to the Regional Track Meet, and won the District Tournament in baseball. Our fine teams were a credit to their school and coaches.

Activity days are the most exciting days. They are the highlights of the school year. Beginning with the Homecoming and ending with the Prom and Banquet. Activities mean good times and fond memories.

Superintendent

The year 1963-1964, a milestone for me! It is so because I was privileged to serve as superintendent of the Pikeville City Schools. The splendid cooperation of the Board of Education, the parents, the staff, and the students was most gratifying to me. I am thankful for the privilege of serving in this office, for a fine community, I eagerly look to the future, to promote and direct education for the youth of Pikeville.

The Board of Education is the backbone of our school system. Its work is not noticed in everyday school life, but its members give many dedicated hours to help make our school as best and efficient as possible. We give our thanks to them.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE: Mrs. Chester Smith, Publicity Chairman; Mrs. David Mulliken, President; Mrs. Dan Yarus, Secretary; Mrs. Jean Owen, Treasurer; Mrs. Masten Childers, Hospitality Chairman; Mrs. James Evans, Spiritual Chairman.

The Pikeville City Parent-Teacher Association has had a busy and rewarding year. Our one money-raising project—the Marionette Show—was put on early in the fall and enabled us to support our various school activities such as the Free Lunch Program, School Supplies and Eye Glasses for the needy children as well as our own activities such as the Hospitality and Publicity Committees, Room Count Awards and Founder's Day Program. We sponsored the Pre-School Clinic and had a workshop on Mental Health as recommended by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Let's keep our membership growing! And remember our objective—to promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church and community.

The class of '64 accomplished much this, our final, year. We make over $2,000 to take our Senior trip to Washington, D.C. We spent three days viewing the sights of Washington.

To raise the money for the trip we had numerous bake sales and sock hops. We had a magazine drive, presented a Senior Play and Mock Faculty. Our boys played the faculty in a vigorous basketball game! (Which we should have won!)

We Seniors have enjoyed every minute of this year, including the "minutes" when we were studying for that "trig" test, the working on a notebook for anatomy or writing our book reports for English. We've had a good year and one of the nicest parts of being a Senior has been knowing that many more good years are just beginning.

The Junior Class of 1963-64 was very busy this year. They spent nine hectic months having bake sales, car washes, sock hops, drives to sell Christmas cards and, of course, the Junior Play. Every member of the class did his share of the work, and the sponsors, Mrs. Nance, Mrs. Keesee, and Mr. Keene, were extremely helpful in arranging and helping with the money-raising projects. It was a year worthwhile, for we managed to give the Seniors a banquet and prom they will never forget.

All the students agree that this was their best year of high school and if the Senior year is going to be anything like it, they can hardly wait.

The dance was in honor of the football boys and also for the alumni of Pikeville High School. The theme of this year's Homecoming was "Mountain Magic," and during the festivities the Homecoming Queen was crowned and her attendants were recognized.

Junior Play — “Seventeen Is Awfully Young”

The entire cast sit nervously awaiting their performance.

Each year the Junior Class presents a play as a money-making project for the Prom. This year’s play was entitled “Seventeen Is Awfully Young.” An evening performance was given on December 12, 1963, and a performance was given the next morning for the student body.

Really, my goodness!

After dinner was completed, the Presidents of the Junior and Senior Classes gave two short speeches, followed by the guest speaker, Mr. Robert Blevins, who gave an inspiring talk on upcoming responsibilities of a Senior.

At one of the Senior tables, there seems to be a look of sadness; would it be because they will soon be leaving?

Everyone enjoys the dinner.

Junior-Senior Prom

Will the silhouette ever take shape?

The Junior-Senior Prom, following the Banquet and given to the Seniors by the Juniors, was held in the gymnasium on May 1, 1964. The theme for this year's Prom was "Moonlight and Roses" carried out in four shades of pink. During the festivities of the night, the Prom King and Queen were crowned.
