Remember When . . .

A strong sense of adventure and optimism moves Pikeville students forward. They work hard to excel, in whatever areas they choose. Take notice of every individual who walks the halls at the high school or the elementary school -- you just might see someone in the Spotlight.

(top right) Beginning in September, Mrs. Kennedy's fifth grade class began corresponding with Sgt. Darby Skelly, Forward Operating Base Warhorse, in Iraq. Through letters, cards, emails, and care packages, the students quickly embraced the soldier as one of their own. Featuring poetry readings in the outdoor classroom, a chorus concert, dance performances, and a band concert, PHS students showcased their talents.

They also looked at the fire trucks, the firefighter gear, and the ever popular "sliding of the pole." After the school doors close in May, many students at Pikeville High School continue on with academic activities while on summer break. Whether performing in talent shows, dancing on the hill, or conducting a crazy science experiment, PHS students shaped tomorrow today.

Remember When...

Students don't limit any opportunities when it comes to learning, especially when hands-on activities are a part of the assignment. "I learn so much more by "doing," one student explained. "I can see the picture much more clearly." Whether it's ballroom dancing, viewing a slide through a microscope, or plucking the strings of a guitar, understanding the concepts are important.

Special friendships are made along the path through elementary and high school, and many people Pikeville students meet, they will share a connection for life.

Memories Were Made...

Remember When...

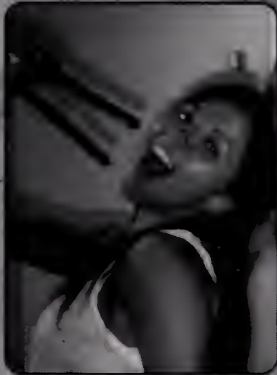

PHS students count down the minutes until the weekends! After enduring five days of drilling, classes, practices, and homework, everyone is ready for a break.

Whether it's camping out, attending a ball game, going to parties, or watching a movie, these guys cherish their weekends.

Wild Side!

Remember when...

Behind every great team is energetic fans! Whether stomping in the stands, blowing fog horns, or yelling chants with the cheerleaders, this group knows how to bring a game to life.

But it isn't only the noise they make. These guys know how to make an entrance! Running onto the bleachers covered in maroon, black, or white paint, spelling out Panthers or PHS, donning Pikeville tee shirts, or dressed in outrageous costumes, these spirited students can be counted on to bring the crowd to their feet!

The Green Team

Forever Green, a relatively new club, continued its progress during the school year. This environmentally friendly group of students get involved in the community to make the earth a cleaner place.

The goal this year was to enhance recycling around the school and city. They started their project by placing recycling bins for plastic bottles in classrooms, the library, and the commons area. This endeavor ended up recruiting the help of many students and teachers.

Another undertaking the group participated in was the Myers Tower Christmas Project. They took items (clothing, toys, shoes, purses, etc.) left over after the St. Francis Church completed its annual Christmas Store project to residents of the apartment complex.

Their final project of the year was sorting binders, paper, and dividers, either to be recycled or used for next school year.

National Honor Society includes students from the junior and senior classes with a GPA of 3.5 or higher.

In order to be an active member, individuals must complete a minimum of 15 hours of community service work throughout the school year. Those hours can be earned by volunteering their time to several different organizations and activities: Pikeville Medical Center, nursing homes, Relay for Life, school plays, high school/jr. high track meets, and day care centers.

NHS also sponsored two major activities during the school year -- the annual blood-drive and Pennies for Patients. The club is sponsored by Ann Samons, guidance counselor.

Buzz Strong!

The academic team experienced much success this year. They won All "A", the 59th District Championship title, placed second at region, and placed sixth at state in a field of 157 teams. In the district championship competition each member placed extremely high; the team ended up with over 77 points altogether.

At state, Ben Stewart placed third in science and eighth in humanities, and Shilpa Sachdeva placed first in composition.

Marching to the Beat

The PHS band provided a major source of school spirit throughout the year. Whether it was dressing up as pirates at football games, playing the school song at pep rallies, or performing the cha cha at basketball games, these dedicated musicians worked hard to pump up the crowd. The group was instructed by Dan Houston and led by drum major Chasity Compton.

Under the direction of Dan Houston and Dena Gibson (pianist), the SSA and SATB choirs impressed audiences with their talent. The Winter and Spring performances showcased the vocals of a dedicated group of students, and during the Spring Festival, hosted by Pikeville College, those in attendance were impressed once again with their energetic voices.

serious business...fbla

Conducting business for the fourth year, the Future Business Leaders of America excelled in many different areas. FBLA began the year with the March of Dimes Walk-a-thon, raising over $150! They were also successful in their fundraising efforts with cell phones, ink cartridges, and School Spirit Coffee.

This group made an impression at the Regional Leadership Competition Conference, held at Morehead State University in March. Many students placed which allowed them to advance to state.

Shilpa Sachdeva (below), Mitch Jackson (middle right), and other members of Student Council helped to make Christmas a little brighter for several children in the community. Along with surprising them with gifts, the group also provided them with cookies and punch.

Student Council, a membership of 36 representatives and four officers, meets monthly to plan projects and activities that involve the entire student body and the community.

The group began the year with Open House, a time for parents to travel their child's class schedule and become aware of class syllabi. Other projects included a special party in December for children in the community, Lunchroom Employee Appreciation Day, and Sixth Grade Orientation.

A favorite activity of the council's is the scavenger hunt. This year, they met in the city park, divided into teams, and roamed the streets on foot to find assigned items.

"It's A Wonderful Life"

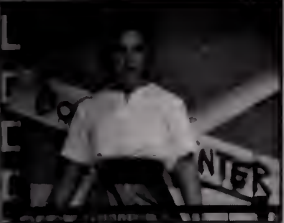

The heart-warming story of George Bailey (John Code), the Everyman from the small town of Bedford Falls, graced the stage in the auditorium in December.

Under the direction of Rachel Sidle and stage manager Davina Bryan, students and community members watched as George's guardian angel (Charles Sowards) reminded him that his life has, after all, been a wonderful life.

5 Days of

Panther Pride

The hallways during Homecoming Week are alive with an excitement that is truly hard to describe. Activities and dress-up days, scheduled by the Pep Club, provide fun for anyone wanting to participate.

Friends get together and plan their "special" wardrobes for the entire week! And it's always interesting to see who's going to wear what. Theme days include class color, western wear, school spirit, and dressing as twins.

Everyone involved has the time of their lives!

The "electricity" moves through the hallways way before game time, even before practices begin. The cause for this energy? Powder Puff football! The junior and senior girls and their coaches schedule practices, draw out game plans, and order t-shirts in anticipation of the big night. It's anybody's game. However, the juniors pulled through with a final touchdown in overtime-- juniors-12, seniors-6.

The Tie Breaker

Kathleen, Katie Schmitt, Tara Sword

Toward the end of the school year, some unfinished business needed to be taken care of. The seniors and eighth graders held a tie at the end of the Mock Olympics back in September, so a tie breaker event was needed in order to declare a winner.

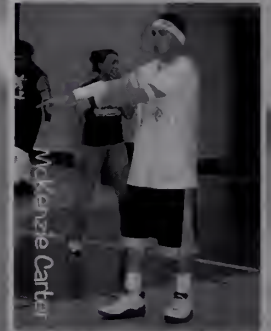

A game of volleyball between the two groups seemed to be the best solution. So, an April afternoon pitted the teams against each other for a Mock Olympics championship. The eighth graders may have gotten a sweet victory in the end, but the seniors enjoyed the excitement of 'bumping' their egos.

A golden ticket gave the 200-plus students entrance into A Sweet Night --Prom 2007. And what awaited them inside made for a special night for those attending the most anticipated dance of the year. The girls put up a great effort in their regional play, and the boys received a first place finish, earning them a bid to the state tournament in Bowling Green. Advancing to the final round, senior Joe Castle placed 18th in the state. Congratulations to Pikeville Golf for an amazing season.

...PANTHERS

Up in the air, Over the rim... Sink it!

The boys' varsity basketball team got off to a great start. At the beginning of the season they defeated Belfry to win the Pikeville Invitational Tournament for the first time in many years. The team also dribbled their way in to the semi-finals of the All "A" Classic in Paintsville.

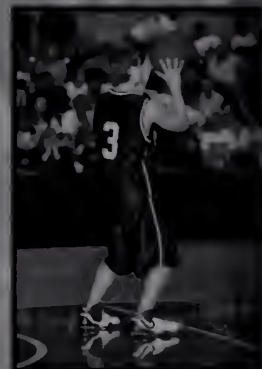

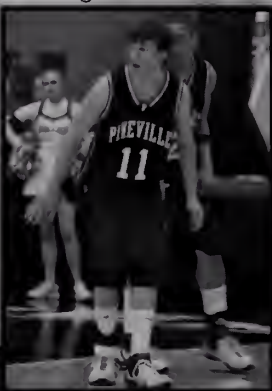

The Panthers surprised the community with outstanding regular season play, upsetting East Ridge and Allen Central. They were runner-up in the District and advanced to the final round of the Regional Tournament. It was an exciting year for Pikeville basketball, stirring up a lot of Panther pride!

It's Hard to be Humble...

The boys' varsity cheerleaders had an amazing year, continuing with the prestigious tradition behind them. The girls worked extra hard starting in June, winning dance and cheer divisions at camp. In addition, the team well represented PHS by bringing home another Class "A" State Championship for the 10th year in a row.

Not only did these determined cheerleaders show their stuff in Kentucky, they also traveled to Orlando, Florida, once again to compete in the UCA National Championship. They beat out 58 of the best teams in the U.S. through prelims and semis, and were recognized as 13th in the nation.

Overcoming many obstacles, the girls also earned 3rd runner-up at state, upholding the good name for PHS cheerleading AND wearing the uniform with pride!

Move Over Cinderella, It's Their Turn to Dream...

The girls' varsity cheerleaders endured a year of tough practices, competitions, and some grueling conditioning to make the year as successful as it was. With no junior varsity members, these young cheerleaders had to step up, and, boy, did they make the competition mat shake! The girls brought along quite a presence to each competition, winning Class 'A' State, UCA Regionals, the Smokey Mountain Classic, and earning 1st runner-up at KAPOs State, competing against high school squads! But, of course, the biggest highlight of their year was bringing home the big one, the National Championship. The squad competed twice in the difficult Junior High division, to be named the best. Don't let their size fool you because these girls had a BIG year!

STEPPING UP TO THE PLATE..... RIDGEVILLE BASEBALL

The Panther baseball team started off the year with the annual Maroon and White scrimmage. The All "A" took place in April, but the Panthers fell short to Paintsville. Bouncing back, the team quickly improved their record, playing in the Johnson Central Tournament and the Powell County Invitational. Capturing the district title, the Panthers defeated East Ridge. Moving on to regional play, the boys were defeated by Johnson Central in the second round. Congratulations on an impressive season!

Hey Pikeville...

Under the direction of two new coaches, Nikki Cole and Kenny Schmidt, the Lady Panther softball team excited the fans from the very beginning. Their first victory came in the opening game of the season against the Belfry Pirates.

They continued to work hard over Spring Break as they traveled to Virginia to play in a tournament where they won several games. In April, the Lady Panthers hosted the annual Lyndel Potter Memorial Tournament where teams from all over the county participated.

Pump Up The Spirit..!

Adding spirit and enthusiasm to the junior high hallways, pep club members stayed busy throughout the year.

Their major undertakings were decorating for the Halloween and Christmas dances. However, the girls also made signs for football and basketball games, filled treat bags for individual players, and decorated the players' lockers. This group was sponsored by Candi Roberts.

(above and right) Catherine, Mona, Jessica, Annie, Hannah, Stephanie, Rebecca, Mollie, and Haley had fun blind-folding members of the eighth grade basketball team during a pep rally. "They thought they had to guess which one of us kissed them on the cheek," one girl explained. "But when we took the blindfolds off, they discovered either their mother or a female teacher in front of them!"

Achieving financial success is a complex and confusing process to even the most experienced investor—one that requires a significant amount of time, knowledge and resources. Many high net worth individuals demand a different investment approach, one that elevates their portfolio beyond one-dimension product strategies and leverages the experience of professional investment advisors.

There's a little bit of truth behind every "Just Kidding"

A little bit of knowledge behind every "I don't know"

A little bit of question behind every "Just wondering"

And there's a little bit of emotion behind every "I don't care"
